DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 11 and 16 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 4/22/05.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-4, 7, 10, 12, 13, 14, and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Worley, et al..

Worley's figs. 4 and 6 discloses a rotor for a synchronous motor [paragraphs 29,30] comprising a soft magnetic carrier 18, nonmagnetic carrier 36, axially arranged (47) magnets (30,32) having a thickness at least twice the thickness of carrier 36. The prefabricated module shown in figs 4-5 is inherently attached to shaft 22 by material interconnecting engagement. At the top of fig. 5, casting compound fills an intermediate space between neighboring permanent magnets.

4. Claims 1, 2, 4-6, 10, 12, and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Offringa, et al..

Offringa's fig. 7 discloses a nonmagnetic carbon fiber carrier 20 (col. 5, line 1) having axially arranged magnets 4 having a thickness at least twice the thickness of the carrier, with casting compound filling an intermediate space between neighboring permanent magnets (col. 4, lines 41-45). The prefabricated module shown in figs 5-7 is inherently attached to shaft 22 by material interconnecting engagement.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claim 8 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 2/28/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant asserts Worley discloses a self-starting permanent magnet motor, which requires supply of alternating current voltage directly from the power mains, and thus, application of such a motor for machine tools, as referred to in claims 1 and 13 is not possible. This issue is not clear to the examiner. All prior art machine tool motors do not require conversion to direct current for operation. Applicant argued Worley lacks the modular configuration of the permanent magnet structure for attachment to a circumferential portion of the rotor shaft. In response, it is noted a prefabricated module shown in figs 4-5 is inherently attached to rotor shaft 22 by material interconnecting engagement. Applicant contends the Offringa reference also lacks the disclosure of a modular configuration of the permanent magnet structure for attachment to a circumferential portion of the rotor shaft, but merely describes a cylindrical or ring-shaped configuration. In response, it is noted a prefabricated module shown in figs 5-7 is inherently attached to rotor shaft 22 by material interconnecting engagement.

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
